

Empowering Physicians to Pioneer Care That Transforms Patient Lives

NextGen Research as Care Network™

The NextGen Research as Care Network brings together NextGen Healthcare's leading technology solutions, top provider clients, and top research partners to create a powerful vehicle to improve clinical outcomes.

By integrating clinical research and trial opportunities with the patient care workflow, this program ensures improved outcomes and advancements in commonly overlooked areas.

Research as Care

Healthcare providers face a myriad of challenges today: declining reimbursement, increased costs, and an onerous regulatory environment. Despite these challenges, the demand for better outcomes for patients has never been greater. At NextGen Healthcare, we believe clinical research leads to improved care and disease prevention while providing a tremendous opportunity for an additional and sustainable revenue stream for independent practices.

The NextGen Research as Care Network is purpose-built to unlock clinical research opportunities for providers across any and every specialty. As members of the NextGen Research as Care Network, our clients can participate in clinical research in essentially three ways:

- 1 Provider Educator: Educate your patient about the possibility of participation in clinical research studies.
- 2 Study Site: Provide a setting to conduct clinical research in adherence to pre-established protocols.
- 3 Principal Investigator: Directing and coordinating a research team, ensuring the research project objectives are met.

Whether the provider group has extensive experience with clinical research or is just embarking on research for the first time, the NextGen Research as Care Network has the resources to drive successful outcomes for patients and the practice.

Benefits of the NextGen Research as Care Network

- Broader access to research opportunities for providers and patients
- Additional revenue for the practice
- Improved reputation and differentiation in the community
- Better provider recruitment and retention
- No cost or obligation
