

Save Time, Reduce Data Entry Work

Enable patients to fill out clinical forms on most devices with Instant Medical History (IMH)

When patients have to fill out paper forms before an appointment, it can set the tone for a less than satisfactory experience. The time involved in entering handwritten information can also be burdensome to an already overextended staff. Patients have become much more familiar with digital forms and even prefer that practices offer them.

Optimize your clinical intake process

With Instant Medical History (IMH), patients can fill out clinical forms online from anywhere on most devices. The patient information automatically populates in the EHR/PM system and is ready for providers to review within the patient's chart.

For your staff and providers, this means a significant reduction in data entry work. Patient encounters become more productive. IMH supports your practice's efforts to increase patient experience offerings and improve patient outcomes—all beneficial in boosting patient and provider satisfaction.*
